SUICIDE OF WALTER MONTGOMERY. - The following telegram, dated London, Sept. 2d, we find published in the San Francisco papers:

WE learn from Hilo that on Wednesday, the 13th inst., a serere shock of earthquake was felt in that district. Although very short, lasting only a few seconds, it was the most severe that has been felt since the shock of 1868. Considerable damage was done to stone walls, and some damage in the way house in Rilo. It may be interesting to some who admire the wit of the Hilo correspondent of the House,-which, by the way, is a very substantial one and in every respect adapted to the purpose for which it was built-was entirely unharmed. In fact, a correspondent writes, "The wall will stand a very Asasy shock." Prof. Hayselmayer a magician, with a number of wonderful per forming birds and mice, arrived by the City of Mel bourne, also en route to the Colonies, and will remale a month. Miss Cora having met with an enthusiastic reception during the past week, has concluded to remain over until the next steamer. Last but not least by any means, are the popular California Minstrels, who we are informed, intend to visit Mant next week, at the request of several prominent residents on that island. They will give two performances at Walluko, and if our neighbors are not able to keep them longer, it will show that they cannot appreciate a good thing.

FROM THE WHALING PLEET -A letter from Capt. Trip of the Arctic to Messra Brower & Co, dated a Plover Bay, June 25, which we have been permitted ROYAL HAWAIIAN THEATRE to see, gives the following information in regard to matters with the fleet up to that date. The Bark Oriole, Hayes, was badly stove in the Icc, receiving serious injury in the keel. It was considered pro bable that her injuries were so serious as to prevent her from proceeding to the Arctic. It was the intention of Capt. Hayes to heave the vessel out as soon as the ice cleared away sufficiently to permit it. But few wintes had been taken, as yet, the Gay Head having taken one, the Reindeer one, the Elizabeth Swift one, and the Massachusetts, one. The Julian, J. D. Thompson, and Progress were reposted outside of Plover Bay in the ice. The report of the loss of the Japan. Barker, last full is confirmed. Nine of the crew are reported lost, including the third officer. Capt. Barker with the remainder of the crew, wintered with the natives and were kind ly treated by them. The Captain and crew reached San Francisco early this month in the Brig Hallie

Steamer en rout for San Francisco, several days behind time, has occasioned considerable annoyance, She was looked for about the 18th, and was expected to leave the following day, instead of which she did not leave until the 25th. The A. P. Jordan sailed on Duke Silver ..... the 17th and the Comet on the 15th, without taking mails, as it was expected the steamer would arrive over first. The Jordan probably will arrive several days before the steamer, and the Comet will arrive about the same time with the latter. The public will probably not place so much dependence on the movements of the steamers bereafter, having been considerably disappointed in this respect of late. The City of Melbourne from San Francisco was also behind time; she left several hours before the Moses Taylor with the mails on board, and did not arrive until Sunday evening, about thirty-two hours after. much to the surprise of every one, as she made the previous passage down inside of nine days. The four mail steamers were all in port together this month, the discharging and loading of which made Monday a very busy day among stevedores and draymen. The City of Melbourne had to suchor off the Esplanade until the departure of the Wonga Wonga, sa there was no wharf accommodation. The Mores Taylor left on Monday evening, remaining a much shorter time in post than usual. The Nevada left Tuesday morning for Auckland, Mclbourne and Sydney and the City of Melbourne on Tuesday noon for Fiji and Sydney. It is not likely that the steamers will all meet in port at the same time again.

Bay June M. put in there for repairs having had how store in by the ine; would proceed north by July 4th. Capt Bar-ker and twenty-four of the cow of the whale bark Japan, of WE clip the following from the Morainy Call of July 25th, the day after the first appearance of Madame States' Company in San Francisco, on which occasion Verdi's Ersani, in which Madame States personated "Elvira," was presented.

Probably no opera is better udapted than Ermani for beginning a season with a new company. The house was packed with a brilliant and demonstrative audience. The overture began very promptly, and the first few notes showed that Signor Glorus had been highly successful in drilling his orchestra, which performed throughout the evening in a man ner creditable to its members and to the conductor. It was a little weak, perhaps, in the brasses, but moon the whole performed its difficult and responsi bie duties not only satisfactorily, but well. The same may be said of the chorus, which acquitted itself with much credit. The evident appreciation with which the performances were received, and the brilliant success with which the present season opened, indicate numberskably that un annual season of first-class Italian opera will always mee with liberal encouragement in this city. Of the soft artists we have little to say that is not commendatory. Mrs. States surprised her friends by her delightful vocalization. Her first aris, the well known and simost hackneyed "Ernani involunt," was given in a brilliant, artistic manner, and with a finish to its floriture which at once testified that a cultivated and really great artist occupied the stage, and the round after round of applause which followed it, showed that the singer had found an audience that sympathized with and fully appreciated her. The stage was literally covered with fioral tributes, and the same beautiful testimonials were frequently repeated during the evening. Mrs. States has every reason to be gratified with her reception attraction offered, the audience was not so large as was suffcipated. The singing by the Kawsia Phases of the Moon for the Month of Sept. 1871. hao Choir in the evening was excellent, and showed great improvement over former concerts. The Minstrels have not been favored with very large audiences during the week, although the matinee on Saturday and the performance in the evening were well attended, Jones and Wallace are still irresistible as ever, and no one can witness their deleneations once without wishing to see them again. With the varied attractions offered by the minstrels, they will doubtless continue to receive stair share of patronage. The entertainments at Buffum's Hall, by the female Ulusionist Miss Cora de Lamond, have more than reached public expectation, and crowded bouses every evening have been the result. Many of the tricks performed by Miss Cora are entirely new, and although several others have been witnessed here before, they certainly were not execu for a meeting at the Depository on Friday, at 11 A.
